Director of Graduate Studies: Andrew Rojecki

The Department of Communication offers work leading to the Master of Arts in Communication. The Interdepartmental Concentration in Gender and Women’s Studies is available to students in this program. The department’s goal is to produce scholars and researchers who will contribute to the growth of knowledge about communication, whether they work in academic or applied settings, and who will be critical consumers of communication research in those settings. Study and research is available in media studies, political communication, intercultural communication, and rhetoric. The emphasis is on breadth and integration; inquiry in media studies, for example, ranges from journalism ethics to media effects, electronic media, and computer-mediated communication, while the study of intercultural communication may range from language and symbolic representation to social inequality, racism, discourse analysis, and international media in cross-cultural settings. Students develop, in consultation with their advisers, a program of study that best meets their personal and professional interests and also provides a rigorous and expansive understanding of new media, political discourse, intercultural communication, and modes of argumentation.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants are considered on an individual basis. Complete transcripts of all undergraduate and any graduate work must be submitted. In addition to the Graduate College minimum requirements, applicants must also meet the following program requirements:

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the Graduate College minimum requirements, students must also meet the following program requirements:

Master of Arts

Minimum Semester Hours Required 32. Students may elect one of two options: examination or thesis. Students declare their intention for either the thesis or non thesis option at the beginning of their second year of full-time study, after completing 24 hours of course work.

Course Work At least 20 hours (excluding thesis hours) must be at the 500-level. Credit in COMM 474 and COMM 498 cannot be applied to the degree. Students who receive more than one grade below B in their graduate course work, or four incompletes that have not been made up within the regulatory one term, will be dropped from the program.

Baccalaureate Field Applicants must have either an undergraduate major in history or a minimum of 16 semester hours in history.

Grade Point Average At least 3.00/4.00 for the final 60 semester hours (90 quarter hours) of undergraduate study. A GPA of 3.50/4.00 is recommended.

Master of Arts

Minimum Semester Hours Required 32.

Course Work Two tracks exist, one for students for whom this degree is intended to be final (the “MA-only track”), and one for whom this degree is intended to lead toward the Doctor of Philosophy in History (the “doctoral track”). At least 20 semester hours must be at the 500-level, and at least 16 semester hours must be in 500-level courses taught by the Department of History. Courses taken in a field other than history that are to count toward the degree need the approval of the adviser and the director of graduate studies. Credit toward the degree is not given for any course in which the student received a grade of less than B.

Required Courses: 4 hours of the 500-level seminar in the student’s major field. Students majoring in United States history must complete 8 hours of HIST 551 designated as the historiographical/bibliographical colloquium. All entering graduate students are required to take HIST 501.

Any additional foreign language (or skills in quantitative methods) requirement will be determined by faculty in the major field. After the student has completed 24 hours of course work, a faculty committee representing the student’s major and minor fields will review the record of each doctoral-track MA student in the final semester of her/his MA studies to decide whether it justifies the pursuit of doctoral studies. If the decision is negative, the student will be put on MA-only track, and will be required to take comprehensive examinations and fulfill all other requirements of the MA degree.

Master of Arts in the Teaching of History

Minimum Semester Hours Required 54 (entering without certification); 32 (entering with certification). Students seeking teacher certification must complete a minimum of 54 semester hours, which includes hours taken in the Department of History and the College of Education. Students not seeking certification must complete a minimum of 32 semester hours.

Course Work At least 16 hours must be in 500-level history courses. Credit toward the degree is not given for any course in which the student receives a grade of less than B.

Students must complete 16 hours in graduate-level readings courses across the three fields of U.S., European, or world history, with at least four hours in each of these. These hours are to be drawn, where possible, from 500-level colloquia. Students must complete 8 hours in courses that focus on the teaching of history and the social sciences, HIST 420 and 500. HIST 420 has a prerequisite of 9 hours in social sciences.

The Interdepartmental Concentration in Second Language Teaching is intended for those graduate students whose primary research and teaching interests lie in literary, cultural, and linguistic studies in English, Spanish, French, German, and other languages. The concentration provides them with advanced education in the processes of language learning and approaches to language teaching, including the teaching of composition.

The concentration is an option in addition to the candidate's regular course of study and is not intended as a replacement for requirements in individual degree programs. It consists of four courses that are chosen from particular areas of study useful to the development of the candidate's knowledge and skill in language teaching. These areas are as follows: Introduction to Language Teaching, Foundations in Second Language Acquisition, and Specific or Special Topics in Language Teaching.

Students in the following graduate programs may be eligible to participate in the Interdepartmental Concentration in Second Language Teaching:
